

Ozone Air Quality

Based on the U.S. EPA's Air Quality Index definitions. Good and Moderate level days have monitor readings below the EPA 8-hour ozone health standard. Unhealthy level days occur when the standard has been exceeded. Air quality in the Tucson region is predominantly in the Good category and is in the Moderate category about 25 percent of the time.

Data source: PDEQ